

January - October 2018

MEIG | Master of Advanced Studies in European and International Governance

- ▶ A unique learning experience combining European and international affairs
- ▶ A programme designed for graduates and professionals working or wishing to work in national, European or international administrations and organisations
- ▶ An interdisciplinary excellence at the University of Geneva in cooperation with UNITAR

Objectives

- ▶ Provide a deep understanding of the political, economic, social and legal aspects of European and International Governance
- ▶ Acquire extended knowledge on the functioning of the United Nations, the EU institutions and the specialised organisations based in Geneva
- ▶ Develop competencies to take over executive functions in national or international careers

Audience

Graduates and professionals working or wishing to work in national and European administrations, international and non-governmental organisations, associations and foundations dealing with international affairs

Principal Themes

The United Nations System | the European Union International Affairs | Human Rights and Migration | International Peace and Security | International Trade | Health and Environment | Agenda 2030

8 modules over 6 months | 3 days a week | followed by 3 months for either an internship, a professional project or a Master's thesis

